

CUB Celebrates National Apprentice Week

To celebrate National Apprenticeship Week from 9th – 13th March 2015, CUB (UK) Ltd is offering one person the chance to find out what it is like to be an apprentice in its Marketing Department via a temporary unpaid work experience placement.

The “apprentice” will be involved in all marketing activities taking place that week and will have an opportunity to design web banners, help with social media, analyse statistics, help to organise an exhibition and write articles and blogs that could be published on their website and in local news papers.

CUB (UK) Ltd has won many awards for their training scheme including:

- Fenland Business Awards 2009 – Training & Development
- Regional Apprenticeship Awards 2010 – Small Employer of the Year
- Regional Apprenticeship Awards 2010 - Advanced Apprentice of the year – Melinda Fairfax
- National Apprenticeship Awards 2010 – Advanced Apprentice of the year – Melinda Fairfax – Highly Commended
- Fenland Business Awards 2010 – Training & Development
- Regional National Training Awards 2010 – Small Employer
- UK National Training Awards 2010 - Small Employer

So if you have a creative flare, love designing or want a career in marketing then please apply for this opportunity. Please send your CV together with an email explaining why you should be chosen, to vicky@c-u-b.com. The closing date is 16th February 2015.
